

Andreas Günther has been Head of Human Resources at Bayer AG since May 1, 2016. Andreas joined Bayer in 1977 and, after completing a traineeship in business administration, started his career in the Procurement area, where he was sent to Miles Inc. in Elkhart Indiana in 1990 to support the Consumer and Diabetes Care operations. After returning to Germany, he held various positions in Procurement from 1994 to 1999. In 2001, Andreas was appointed Head of Technical and Services Procurement for the Bayer Group, and became Head of Bayer HealthCare Procurement in 2002, where he assumed responsibility for building up the Procurement organization. From January 2007 to May 2016 he has worked as Head of Bayer HealthCare Human Resources.

Andreas is married and has two grown-up sons. In his free time, he enjoys golf, biking and traveling with his wife and friends.